

Joshua Tell writes songs that draw people in. Tender to toe-tapping, traveling tunes to historical ballads. Since moving to Cologne, Germany in 2012 he has built a collection of songs based on the American folk tradition, with a perspective from the other side of the pond. He has been fortunate to tour and record with musicians from all over the world, and his debut album will be released this summer!